"It's now time for me to make a stump speech," yelled Senator Ashurst above the uproar.

"You want us to walk into a trap," Ashurst shouted, pointing his finger at Daugherty's counsel.

"You want it said that this committee besmirched the great name of a man now dead. We have come to weigh on us now. We won't go into your trap."

Applause and hisses came from the spectators.

Legion Asks Part of Bonus

Appeals for Ten Per Cent at Least for Support of Veterans' Mountain
Camp—Demands on Camp Very Great.

An appeal to veterans of the World War who will shortly participate in the distribution of the soldiers' bonus, to assign at least ten per cent of the bonus payment, and the major portion of it, if it is not essential for their own use, to the Veterans' Mountain Camp at Tupper Lake, N. Y., is made by Col. H. J. Cookingham, Jr., chairman of the bonus assignment committee of the American Legion, department of New York.

Col. Cookingham has been requested by Edward E. Spafford, commander of the American Legion, department of New York, to act as chairman of a committee to be composed of a representative from each county in the state and to be known as the bonus assignment committee. This committee will seek to obtain from veterans sharing in the forthcoming soldiers' bonus, an assignment of a portion of their bonus to help broaden the scope of the Veterans' Mountain Camp.

Because many veterans developed tuberculosis after their discharge and also after the time set by the federal government when it could be claimed that they contracted it through service in the army, the demands of the Veterans' Mountain Camp to accommodate the additional overseas men are very great. No inmate receives financial aid from the government, so it is planned to secure from the World War veterans themselves, assistance for their unfortunate buddies who have contracted lung trouble since the war ended.

In order to convince World War veterans of the need of financial support for the Veterans' Mountain Camp, State Commander Edward E. Spafford, of the American Legion, department of New York, has started a state-wide campaign to bring to the attention of those who can afford to assign a percentage of their bonus payment to the mountain camp, the philanthropy of such assignments.

The appeal has already met with cooperation and some of the veterans have waived their share in the bonus for the benefit of their comrades, who are either receiving treatment or would be able to as the result of their own generosity.

The location of the Veterans' Mountain Camp is ideal and many cases of improvement have been reported, but it is the general belief that the expansion of the camp and the number of additional unfortunate veterans who could be accommodated there, rests largely with the members of the American Legion, department of New York, at this time.

To make the assignment of either the whole or a portion of the bonus payments the more readily effective, the bonus checks, to be distributed within a few weeks, will include an attachment, which will be in the form of an assignment and which the desire to donate either all or a portion of the bonus may be written by the veteran, deciding to aid the movement for the benefit of the many unfortunates whose health has been impaired as a result of their service to the flag.

It is pointed out that the only time to secure the assignment of the bonus or such portion of it as may be donated to the Veterans' Mountain Camp is at the time of filling out the application.

An average assignment of ten per cent of the bonus payment from all veterans will create a fund of $4,500,000, which amount will forever establish the camp on a firm foundation and leave a balance for a general benevolent fund.

Cooperation is urged by veterans with the directors of their district and high hopes are entertained that the campaign to secure from the veterans themselves aid sufficiently substantial to make the Veterans' Mountain Camp a great hope for unfortunate World War veterans who have lost their health through their patriotism.

"As my American friends say, it is real good of you"—Premier Ramsay MacDonald. Did he mean that we should say "really good"—as obviously we should—or would he recommend the English "Jolly good?"

Ellnor Glyn, the British novelist, whose fiction has been rendered somewhat less startling by rivals ready to "let loose" even more extensively, is now the head of the soul of an American corporation styled, "Ellnor Glyn, Limited." In view of the large liberty she has claimed and exercised, "unlimited" would seem to be rather more appropriately descriptive.

Nowadays there is overmuch talk about "self-expression," especially in artistic circles, but we hear little about self-examination with a view to self-correction and moral and spiritual improvement. Possibly one reason for this is that the latter task, if approached with genuine sincerity, is difficult, and that blissful self-satisfaction resents any disturbance of its serenity.

LOST TOMCATS AND RADIO.

Probably nobody objected when both telegraph wires and the radio on Monday night carried the news that President Coolidge had lost his pet tomcat, which strayed during the recent heavy snowstorm in Washington. The radio announcer in that city adding that he had been asked by the White House to spread news of the loss. But everybody, whether newspaper readers or radio listeners will agree with the New York World that "Things have come to a pretty pass when a Presidential tomcat cannot go out for an evening stroll, and possibly an appointment, without having the news radioed over the country."

America is big enough to be interested in everything connected with the President's family, no matter who the occupant of the White House may be, and to have a feeling of sympathy with the President's family over the smallest loss, even of a pet, but America is too big to believe that President Coolidge would seek the aid of radio to secure the return of a lost tomcat. Calvin Coolidge is too big to notify America of trifling incidents and too practical to overlook the substantial benefits of the "Lost" columns of Washington newspapers in such a matter, no matter how much of a family favorite the tomcat might be.

Radio announcers are still in their infancy, and while they understand the American characteristic of good humor and desire for a laugh, very often their efforts to gratify this American desire are extremely crude. Very few radio announcers are also professional humorists or possess real wit. Possibly some individual in the White House who requested the radio announcer to broadcast the loss of the President's pet tomcat was a practical joker; more likely he was an attaché who suffers unduly the weight of official responsibility, and regarded as a stroke of genius a public announcement which, so far as it concerned the White House "request" was nothing if not belittling. Radio announcers, therefore, should be selected for their brains as well as their voice.

Radio censorship is to be abhorred as much as censorship of newspapers, and the only sensible solution of a cause of increasing complaint by radio users is the education of radio announcers. The radio occupies a field in some respects similar to the newspaper domain. Their points of similarity and dissimilarity occur to everyone who gives the matter any thought. While the radio listener is enabled to turn quickly from a program that does not satisfy him to one which does, ability to receive such air programs involves a considerable preliminary outlay for apparatus which the majority of broadcasting stations apparently take into consideration by eliminating "slush" from their service, just as the majority of newspapers do.

With radio, he who tunes in may listen, for which reason already there is a rush by political, philanthropic and educational promoters of varying degrees of sincerity to broadcast their ideas to an audience whose size cannot be either forecasted or determined. Punctuating the usual seriousness of such talks with flashes of humor adds to the pleasure and value of radio, but burdening the air of America with news of lost tomcats is beyond the bounds of reason. The news value of the occurrence consisted of the fact that a broadcasting station would be used for such a purpose, but further tomcat announcements should be relegated to a radio advertising service whenever it is established.

IODINE IN THE DRINKING WATER

A medical health officer of a large city in the United States, has rather startled the people of that city by his proposal to put some iodine in the drinking water supply.

As you know, many cities are using chlorine in the water to prevent intestinal trouble.

His idea of putting iodine into the drinking water is to prevent goiter. Goiter is that enlargement of the front of the neck that is seen so frequently nowadays.

It may be just a simple enlargement giving little or no trouble, or it may be setting up complications affecting the heart, eyes, nerves, and the general tone of the body.

The health officer states that where iodine is a regular ingredient in the water supply, goiter is unknown.

That people who live on a diet of sea fish are likewise free from goiter. He feels that as goiter is prevalent in his city, and that the water though pure, is deficient in iodine, therefore he proposes to prevent goiter by putting iodine directly into the water.

Now this sounds all right, and there can be no question now but that iodine is our best remedy in this condition.

What has been the result of his suggestion?

Why the medical health officers of other cities are being asked what they think about it, and whether or not they will follow the example of their brother medical officer.

Those who say anything say that while it might suit this other place, and the ideas of this other medical officer, it would not suit them.

Why? Because just a very small percentage of the people have goiter, or have the tendency toward it, and so why subject the entire population to the effects of iodine upon their system.

Iodine is like any other drug. It has its uses where there are enlarged glands, and other swellings about the body. It also has a wholesome effect upon the blood in some conditions.

But it is a drug and would have a harmful effect upon the system generally, especially if an overdose were put in the supply.

And just as with other drugs, an ordinary dose might cause severe illness or even death in some cases.

For instance, one person might experience a peculiar restlessness that he could not understand.

Another would have frequent vomiting spells and severe purging, similar to that caused by overripe or green fruit.

With others the heart would feel as if it were trying to jump out of the body. You can readily see that the physicians in a city using iodine would be up against some distressing, but interesting cases.

The fact that breweries and home brewers know that iodine would prevent the proper manufacture of beer may cause some opposition to his scheme.

The point however is interesting because it is well for the people to know that iodine is a preventive of, and a remedy for, goiter.

ITALY STRIVES FOR SUPREMACY IN THE AIR.

That Premier Benito Mussolini was in earnest when he declared he intended to give Italy supremacy in the air is illustrated by this photograph of 200 fighting airplanes at one aerodrome outside Rome. In addition to airplanes Italy has a remarkably large assortment of dirigibles, the latest being the N-1, 400 feet long. ## QUART OF WATER CLEANS KIDNEYS

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You.

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys. The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. If all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

I Was No Beauty

As a girl—till these ways made me so

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I was not a natural beauty. Many girls had finer hair, figure and complexion. But my mother went with me to search the world for the greatest beauty helps in existence. These helps made me a famous beauty, and kept that beauty to my old age.

I have seen those helps bring multiplied beauty to countless young girls since then. They have brought many friends of mine decades of youth. That is why I now am helping millions to obtain them.

The supreme help
Clay is the greatest beauty help that ever came to women. Famous beauties have for ages used it. Now every circle you see its marvelous acts.

It purges the skin of all that is or clogs it. It removes the old skin leaving one a baby-like complexion. It firms the skin, combats lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. No girl or woman so knows its results will ever go without it.

France gave to me a super-clay, white, refined and dainty. It is based on 20 years of scientific study. No crude and muddy clays can bring comparable results. I call it my White Youth Clay. To that I owe my youthful bloom, which countless women envy. Now that White Youth Clay is at your call. The price is 50 cents and $1.

Matchless creams
My Youth Cream is the greatest of cream science has perfected. It contains products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to foster the skin texture.

I use it after my clay. Also as a night cream. Also daytimes as a powder base. Never for one hour am I without it, to soften, whiten, feed and protect the skin. Now I offer you that Youth Cream. The price is 60 cents.

My Facial Youth is a liquid cleanser perfected by French experts. Now the great masters of beauty, the world over, employ it.

It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. But it penetrates the skin to the depths. When I wipe it off, all the dirt and grime, all the refuse comes with it. I never knew what a clean skin meant until I found Facial Youth.

Now you may use that cleanser. My Facial Youth costs 75 cents.

My Beautiful hair.

My hair is my greatest glory. It grows finer every year. Falling hair, dandruff or gray hair have never been known to me. All that is due to my Hair Youth. I apply it with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. It keeps the hair roots free from hardened oil and dandruff. It stimulates and fortifies. I have never known anything bring to men or women the results Hair Youth brings me.

My Hair Youth costs 50 cents and $1. No one who tries it for one week will ever go without it.

These four products combine 22 beauty helps. These are, they tell me, the best helps in existence. My own results prove that. Now all druggists and toilet counters supply them. Go try them. Learn what added beauty what new youth these things can bring to you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

TODAY—Carl Laemmle presents PRISCILLA DEAN in "The Flame of Life"

Not a sweet courtship in which love found its way into peaceful hearts—but a cataclysmic catastrophe that projected two hearts into the fiery crucible of danger in which nothing that was not pure and great could survive. Two hearts were forged into one love! Great Western—"The Indian's Lament."

YOUNG MOTHER MURDERED BY FIEND.

When her automobile, in which she was riding with her mother and two children, was stalled on Staten Island, New York, Mrs. Maud A. Bauer, wife of an automobile salesman, accepted a ride from a man in a passing car, who promised to take her to a near-by garage to get help. Twenty minutes later her body, with a bullet wound in the stomach and a knife wound in the throat, was found on a lonely road by boy bicyclists, not more than 300 feet from the spot where she had left her car.

FROM "SIDEWALKS OF NEW YORK" TO THE CARDINALATE.

MUNDELEIN BIRTHPLACE, AT AGE OF 10. STUDENT IN ROME, (Below) AS MONSIGNOR, AS AUXILIARY BISHOP & AS ARCHBISHOP

Literally from the sidewalks of New York to a principality in the Roman Catholic Church is the path George, Cardinal Mundelein, Archbishop of Chicago, has trod. Born at No. 65 Avenue C, in the lower East Side tenement house district of New York City, the present Cardinal is pictured first at 10, when he was a student in the St. Nicholas parochial school, in East Second street, New York City. At 21 he was a student priest in the Propaganda College in Rome, and, as a result, speaks fluent Italian. Before he was 30 he was Right Rev. Monsignor Mundelein, serving in the Brooklyn, N. Y. Diocese. In a brief time he became Auxiliary Bishop of Brooklyn, and is shown at the Church of Our Lady of the Isle, at Long Beach, L. I., the building of which he directed. While still a very young man he became, in 1909, the Archbishop of Chicago. Now, the sidewalks of New York far behind, though he is still a very young man, he is a Prince of the Church.

Dividends and N. Y. Income Tax

Dividends received on shares of trust companies, banks and banking associations where these companies are taxable in New York state, are not taxable to shareholders filing New York personal income tax returns.

Richard Crimigan, an auditor of the State Income Tax Bureau, who is at Kingston court house from March 17 until April 9, assisting taxpayers, said further that where local assessors had put a person on the new moneyed capital assessment roll, that income from such principal was not taxable under the personal income tax law.

"In general, however," said this representative, "dividends are taxable under the state law, which in that particular is different from the Federal statute. Cash dividends comprise any distribution in the ordinary course of business and are taxable under the state law, regardless of when the earnings of profits out of which they were paid were accumulated. In the case of the Federal law there is a distinction as to the exclusion of a certain part of cash dividends paid out of surplus accumulated prior to March 1, 1913.

"True stock dividends are not taxable when received but represent a greater addition to the stockholder's interest than he originally had before their issuance. When any of the original or dividend shares of stock are sold, gain may be realized or loss sustained. By 'true stock dividends' is meant the distribution by a corporation of new or previously unissued stock among its stockholders to represent an amount transferred on its books from surplus or undivided profits account to capital stock account, but in no instance do true stock dividends refer to those paid in stock of corporations other than those declaring them or paid in stock of the declaring corporations which has been once issued and afterwards repurchased."

FASHION HARKENS TO HER MASTER'S VOICE.

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

"Come and sit down and let us talk clothes," said a smartly turned out woman to me not so long ago on the sands at Palm Beach, and talk we did, all through the bathing hour. She had just returned from Paris with trunks and trunks of beautiful clothes, and one and all I was informed adhered to the simple line. I learned, too, that in the opinion of this slender woman who could wear any sort of frock, that the tailored suit was most important of all just now.

How many tell me that! It was of course admittedly so at one time. "The mainstay of the wardrobe," always meant a suit but one wore fluffy clothes too. Now, there is not one tailored suit, but several in every wardrobe and with the exception of our party frocks, everything we don has come under the masterful influence of the lords of the earth. Dame Fashion has harkened to her master's voice!

The suit is not usual on southern beaches. Heretofore, one wore suits for traveling and perhaps, if they were white or knitted, occasionally in-between-times. Now, one dons a dress as a relief from the two-piece idea, the two-piece just as frequently being a skirt and coat as a middie or tunic and skirt. When one wears a coat, as a coat, it is three-quarter in length. When a coat is worn as an accompaniment to a skirt and to complete the tailleur, it is apt to be short and uncompromisingly straight, sleeves and all. Nor does it button at the side as did the jaquettes of yesterday or the three-quarter wrap-around topcoats.

Revival of Olympic Games

There have been so many popular misunderstandings about the Olympic games that the Ulster County Olympic Committee has prepared a statement answering some of these questions.

The modern Olympic games are a revival of the ancient Olympic games which were held at intervals of every four years for many hundred years during the time of Grecian supremacy of the old world.

Among the ancient Greeks, bearing for a thousand years the torch of civilization, there was no other unifying force so great as the Olympic games, for it must be remembered the Greeks were not a unified nation. They were scattered among small city states. The games were inspired by enthusiasm for sport, literature and religion. Athletes from many city states gathered in the beautiful sacred enclosure known as Olympia, to compete for prizes. Among these athletes and their friends, there were many forums where views were exchanged and common ideas discussed. In this way, the contests resulted in mental, as well as physical progress.

The famous Greek athletes maintained a high moral standard in their mode of living and in the contests. They underwent the severest training. The prize of the victor at the Olympic games was simply a wreath of wild olive, which had been picked with religious ceremonial. But his native city accorded the highest honors to the victor. He was clad in a purple mantle and his chariot was drawn by four white horses. His entrance into the city was made through a breach in the walls, while throngs of his fellow citizens acclaimed him. Statues were erected in commemoration of his feats.

Amateur sportsmanship was connected in the Greek mind with the highest developments of their wonderful civilization. It had a deep influence on Greek culture. Through the Olympic games, the Greeks were brought to a spirit of friendly emulation, a desire to excel. The games were the inspiration of much that is best known in Greek art and literature.

The first modern Olympic games were held at Athens in 1896. The idea of reviving the Olympiads of ancient Greece originated with a Frenchman, Baron Pierre de Coubertin, who had given himself with tireless energy to the promotion of interest in the games. His inspiration was a belief in the physical betterment of youth through exercise and wholesome, recreative sports. The Olympic games also stand for international good will and understanding.

The games, which are open only to amateurs, comprise a series of world and Olympic championships. Almost every international sport of any importance is included. The management of the games is democratically shared by the International Olympic Committee, and the National Olympic Committees of the countries represented, and the old and well-established international sports organizations.

After the success of the first games at Athens, the Olympic ideal of "sport for all and all for sport" fired all the world with enthusiasm. And while not always a winner in the other events, the United States led the world in track and field athletics by a wide margin and had at all times and under all conditions, worthily upheld the honor and traditions of our country.

America's record is not surprising. Nowhere in the world are sports encouraged and supported as they are in this country. The American Olympic Committee is affiliated with the great sporting associations of the United States. Its members are actuated by patriotism and a desire to promote health, clean living and international friendship.

Included among the fifty odd great sporting associations in the United States affiliated with the American Olympic Committee are:

United States Army, United States Navy, Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America, Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, U. S. Lawn Tennis Association, National Collegiate Athletic Association, National Amateur Athletic Federation, Young Men's Christian Association, Catholic Young Men's National Union of the U. S., Jewish Welfare Board, Knights of Columbus of the United States, Playground and Recreation Association of America, American Trap Shooting Association, Intercollegiate Conference Athletic Association, Navy League of the United States.

How much of your land is producing stumps?

BEFORE explosives were used on the farm, clearing land was heavy, costly work. Today, stumping can be done at a surprisingly low cost—less labor and trouble—quicker and better results.

Many farmers in this section are using Dumorite, the du Pont explosive, for clearing their stump land—making their farms "bigger" for profitable crops. Dumorite does the job at lower expense and does it right. Dumorite gives you one-third more sticks per dollar—about the same strength, stick for stick, as 40% dynamite, and the slow, heaving action of 20%. It is non-freezing and won't give you a headache from handling.

We carry complete stocks of Dumorite and other du Pont dynamites—recognized as standard wherever explosives are used. Let us estimate on the cost of clearing some of your stump land.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

DOLLY

She is not really a dolly. That is, she is not a toy and she is not of the big doll family.

She is a dolly in daintiness and she is a dolly, too, because she is lovable and hugable just as a dolly is.

But she is a real live person and she is called Dolly as a pet name.

You see, she is a pet just as a doll is a pet.

When her family tried to call her by her real name it didn't seem natural. It was a nice name to use for school and for important and superior occasions, but it was not the name which sounded natural for her family to use when they wanted to let her know how much they loved her.

And so it began. They called her Dolly at first when they wanted to show her in just one more little way that they thought she was the dearest person and the sweetest person and the loveliest person.

And then they wanted to let her know in just one more way that they loved her so that they had to call her by a pet name.

But it didn't seem to them that there was ever a time when they didn't want to show her how they felt about her and so, from having at first called her Dolly every little while, they began to call her Dolly every single time they spoke to her.

Now once a year, as is the custom with people, she had a birthday. And the family wanted to show her how happy they were about that. They were so happy all the time having Dolly around them that they didn't quite know how they could show her it any more—and yet on a birthday every one wants to show just a little more of the joy that is felt that some one they love is having another birthday and they hope many, many, many more!

So they prepared a little celebration. Just as they did each year! For each year it grew more important that there must be a little celebration for their beloved Dolly.

So this year they gave a very small party—just for those who loved Dolly best of all. They would give a big party later on but those who loved her the most wanted one little celebration all their very own for Dolly. They gathered around a little table and they sang this song, making up a funny little tune as they went along:

Dolly, we love you, you ought to know that.
And we know that you know it, too.
You're neither too thin nor are you too fat.
You're perfect just being you.

Dolly, we love you, you're our own precious one.
You make us so glad and so gay.
You're full of action and full of fun.
And you make us feel just the same way.

Dolly, we love you, and we mean what we say.
When we sing this song.
We wish you so many happy returns of the day.
Many, many happy returns of the day!

Then they gave Dolly their presents, but not very many—just a few little things, for this year they had a surprise for Dolly. She was to pick out her little gifts herself on the next day, for they knew there were several little things she wanted which she could pick out just right.

After that they had peach ice cream, for they thought it was a good thing to have the ice cream of a flavor which was like Dolly—and Dolly was just like a little peach, too!

They had a cake with candles and they made speeches and cheered, and Dolly sat at the head of the table with a wreath about her head and at the back of her chair ribbons gayly were tied there.

Green ferns were decorating the table and a carrot made mostly out of marshmallow stood upon the table, too, for Dolly was very fond of marshmallow.

And as the smiles of all looked so brightly happy in the candlelight Dolly's heart glowed warmly that she was so loved and the hearts of the others that they had Dolly to love.

For what is nicer than on a birthday to show, just a little more, than at any other time of the year, how much we love the one whose birthday we are celebrating and about which we are rejoicing?

Gold Production

Accurate gold statistics have been kept for 430 years. In that time 875,000,000 fine ounces of gold have been produced, valued at $18,000,000,000. About $6,000,000,000 of it has been made into money, the remainder having been used in the industrial arts or in some way lost.

SOMETHING ABOUT OLIVES

A ripe olive yields twice as much heat or twice as many calories as the green olive and is nearly equivalent to bread which we consider the staff of life. The ripe olive like the green has to be eaten often before it is well liked by most people. Those who become accustomed to it like it far better than the green; it is more easily digested and much richer in food value.

Ripe olives because of their flavor, which is very delicate, are especially good in meat sauces and dressings and made dishes.

A half-dozen ripe olives chopped fine and added to the giblet sauce to serve with chicken or turkey are especially nice.

Olive Sauce.—Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter and add a tablespoonful of chopped olives; cook until softened. Remove the olives, add five tablespoonfuls of flour and one-half teaspoonful of salt with a few dashes of cayenne pepper. Add two cupfuls of brown stock and cook until thick. Cut one dozen ripe olives from their pits, cover with boiling water for five minutes, then add the sauce. Serve with meat or game.

Hawaiian Salad.—Place a slice of pineapple on a leaf of lettuce. On it arrange alternate sections of orange and grapefruit, between each section a piece of ripe olive. In the center of the pineapple place a ball of cream cheese seasoned with mayonnaise to hold it together. Sprinkle with paprika and serve with French dressing. The pineapple juice may be used in place of vinegar for the dressing. Pass mayonnaise for the salad.

Olive Salad.—Take four tart apples, one bunch of celery, one-half cupful of walnut meats and three-fourths of a cupful of pitted ripe olives. Cut the celery, apples and olives into julienne strips, add the nuts, moisten with mayonnaise and serve in a nest of lettuce.

"Price Class"

the mysterious stranger in the motor industry

Does a difference in price indicate a difference in quality? Why is one car priced 25% to 50% higher than another of the same quality? The 4 questions that a buyer should ask when considering any car.

HERE are facts based on world's engineering authority. If you have any intention of buying an automobile, you are urged to read them.

No "Price Class"

There are only two kinds of automobiles today. Economically produced cars which give you more for your money. And cars which are not, and give you less.

Price does not indicate intrinsic worth. But an individual maker's cost of production.

Hence two cars may show a price difference of $400 to $1,200 and more. And be of the same quality.

The difference in price simply shows that it cost one maker more to make this car than the other. Judging value on price, this is folly. Price class is a myth.

Where the Difference Comes in

Studebaker, producing 150,000 cars yearly, has reduced engineering cost to $3.33 per car.

This is based on a total engineering cost of $500,000 a year, which is the least on which any manufacturer can maintain an efficient engineering department.

Thus a manufacturer producing but 20,000 cars a year must add $25 per car for engineering, or eight times as much as Studebaker.

Other fixed overheads have been reduced proportionately. And these influence Studebaker prices.

A set of body dies costs $100,000. It will produce many thousand sets of body stampings, each one as perfect as though there were only a dozen made.

By building 50,000 bodies from a single set of dies, Studebaker reduces the die cost per body to only $2.00.

LIGHT - SIX

Touring	$1045
Roadster (3-Pass.)	1025
Coupe-Roadster (2-Pass.)	1195
Coupe (5-Pass.)	1395
Sedan	1485

The average small manufacturer whose volume will enable him to build only 5,000 bodies from a set of dies in the same time in which Studebaker builds 50,000 has to charge each body $20 for die cost. The difference of $18 is in the price but not in the body. The customer pays it but he gets nothing tangible for it. It is one of the penalties of uneconomical manufacture.

Thus a car priced at $1,200 to $1,400 can be sold as low as $1045 when produced economically in quantity.

Why Studebaker excels the world in body building

For 72 years Studebaker has been a builder of quality vehicles.

This historical tradition has been inbred in generation after generation of coach-makers. And the Indiana city of South Bend is known as a world-Mecca of artisans of this craft.

In the modern $10,000,000 Studebaker body plants, there are sons and fathers and grandfathers working side by side. Their religion is fine coach building. And this is reflected in their work.

As fine body builders, Studebaker stands supreme. No other maker has the experience of Studebaker. No other the Studebaker traditions to inspire him.

Such a car is the Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car, at $1045. A clear difference of between $155 to $355.

The uneconomical manufacturer is not profiteering. He is unfortunately situated, that is all.

Equalled Only by Costliest Foreign and American Makes

All Studebaker models are equipped with Timken bearings. There are few cars in America, regardless of price, which equal ours on this point. In our Light-Six, for instance, we put more Timken bearings than are used in any competitive car, within $1,500 of its price.

ings than are used in any competitive car, within $1,500 of its price.

We subject Studebaker cars to 30,000 inspections. That requires 1,200 men. All told over 70,000 hand and machine operations are performed in the manufacture of a Studebaker car. In so many operations, though each one is small, there is great opportunity for economy and savings. 15% premium is paid on many steels to insure Studebaker specifications instead of "commercial run" used in cars many times Studebaker price.

No finer car can be built than the Studebaker of today. Only famous foreign cars and the most costly of American cars, compare.

See a Studebaker—Then Decide

Buy no car until you've seen a Studebaker. Go over it, point for point. Consult any unbiased expert. Ask your banker. And you will own a Studebaker.

Get an Answer to These 4 Questions Before Buying Any Car

1—Is this an assembled car? Or "partly" assembled. Insist on this answer. Assembled cars pay a profit to from 75 to 100 parts makers alone.

2—What sort of bearings? Studebakers are Timken-equipped. Everlasting smoothness and quiet performance result.

3—How many cars a year does this maker produce? Small productions mean either a higher price or cheaper car.

4—What sort of upholstery? Studebaker closed models are done in Chase Mohair, the finest material for this purpose known. Open models are upholstered in genuine leather.

MAKES DARING RESCUE OF GIRL FROM AIRPLANE

Aerial Stunt Performer Is Saved From Death While Thousands Watch.

Houston, Tex.—A rescue in midair saved Miss Rosalia Gordon of Houston from death while more than 5,000 horrified spectators gazed skyward.

Miss Gordon, an aerial stunt performer, was attempting a parachute leap. When she leaped the upper end of the parachute became entangled with apparatus of the plane and left her suspended 20 feet below.

Diavolo, acrobatic airman, climbed out of the fuselage and hand under hand let himself down to the landing gear. With the inadequate footing, he was unable to draw her back to safety.

Kept Plane in Air. C. H. Pangborn, the pilot, kept the plane in the air, realizing that an attempt to land would have meant instant death to the girl.

Freddie Loon, a Houston aviator, went up in another machine, piloted by Tommie Thompson, to lend aid. A mile from the ground he changed from Thompson's plane to Pangborn's machine. He then worked his way to the landing gear, but even he and Diavolo could not pull the girl back to the machine.

Loon then mounted to the passenger's seat, and, using the auxiliary controls, drove the plane, while Pangborn climbed down to the landing gear and added his strength to that of Diavolo. Between them they brought the girl back to the landing gear. Pangborn again took command of the machine and brought it back to earth.

Pants, Mattress and Quilt Clothe Horse

Winchester, Va.—George W. Fletcher was directed by a court order to provide suitable stable accommodations for a horse, which he admitted, had been kept in an open field for the past month.

Fletcher explained that his stable was crowded to the limit by live stock, and said that to keep the horse from suffering during cold weather he had placed a heavy mattress over the horse, and on top of that he had fastened a bed blanket, two quilts and two rubber sheets. In addition, he had equipped the horse with a rubber headgear to keep off the wind, rain and snow, and had also placed pants on the horse's legs.

People passing the Fletcher premises thought it was moving day at the home.

Fletcher told the court that the horse was fed regularly.

NERVY GIRL BANDIT LAUGHS AT POLICE

Escapes in an Automobile While Officers Wait.

New York.—Displaying utter contempt for Commissioner Earle's order to a squad of 250 plain-clothes men, issued a short time previously to "get her dead or alive," Brooklyn's famous bobbed-haired girl bandit, who has robbed dozens of stores, again made her appearance in her role as driver of a bandit car, and, with two confederates, escaped with $200 taken from a Thomas Boulton chain store.

Thomas Egan, manager of the store, and Willie Ryan, fifteen years old, his errand boy, were the only ones in the shop when the two men entered. The bandits kept Egan and the boy covered with revolvers while they rifled the cash register.

With a curt command to Egan to "keep your trap shut or get ready to stop a couple of bullets," the two men backed out of the store. Around the corner was an automobile, over the wheel of which bent the bobbed-haired girl bandit.

She had the motor going and as the men stepped into the back of the car she threw in the clutch and the car sped away before any one had noted the number of the license.

The girl's daring has staggered the Brooklyn police. More than 150 extra men in plain clothes, some from the detective school, have been "planted" inside and outside of chain stores to catch the girl, but she always eludes them.

Man 64, Braves Death to Save Dog in River

Detroit, Mich.—An eight-months-old Alredale puppy, frozen to the ice in the Detroit river and howling for help, was rescued from death by a sixty-four-year-old man, who, risking his life on the treacherous broken ice, crawled to the dog, bundled him in a blanket and brought him safely to shore. The story was told by friends of Dr. R. Adlington Newman, to whom "Jerry," the puppy, owes his life.

Doctor Newman saw the dog falling in an attempt to cross the ice.

"I love dogs," Doctor Newman said, "and I couldn't endure the thought of watching this fine puppy die for want of human aid. I tied a rope around my waist and asked a policeman to hold the other end. Then I worked my way over the ice, pushing a skiff ahead of me, and at length reached and rescued the dog."

Man Shot in Mouth as He Walks With Friend

New York.—While walking with a friend along Eighth avenue Michael Haines, twenty-two years old, complained of a stinging sensation in the roof of his mouth. When his companion, Joseph Clinton, saw blood trickling forth he took Haines to the Harlem hospital.

There it was found that a bullet, fired mysteriously, had lodged in the man's mouth, with a probability, physicians said, of fatal results. Both men denied having heard a shot and asserted that Haines had no enemy who might be suspected.

FIGURES IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

Above: EDESEL FORD & DOROTHY GORDON. Below: FRED W. UPHAM & WILLIAM H. ANDERSON

An alleged plot to force Edsel Ford, son of Henry Ford, to pay $1,000,000 under threat to blind his three children was uncovered by the arrest in Detroit of a man and a woman who had picked up a box full of stage money. William H. Anderson, former head of the Anti-Saloon League of New York and a national figure in the prohibition movement, has been sent to State's prison at Ossining (Sing Sing), N. Y., to serve a sentence of from one to two years after conviction of forgery. Dorothy Gordon, mother of an exclusive Boston family and heiress to an estate of $500,000, has obtained her release from the McLean Asylum at Waverly, where she had been held three years. She had been the centre of a legal battle involving her guardian and relatives. It was charged she was "railroaded" to the asylum in order that her fortune might be placed in other hands. Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, summoned to Washington in the oil lease investigation, wired the Senate Committee he could not reach there at the time he was directed to appear and that he did not know when he would go.

Tuberculosis Menace In Germany Certain Unless Kin of Sufferers Dispatch Relief Without Delay

Germany has been characterized by no less distinguished an authority than Dr. Haven Emerson, former Commissioner of Health of New York City and an authority on community health, as "a perfect organization for the spread of tuberculosis." Dr. Emerson made this statement recently on his return from a tour of Germany, made at the request of the American Committee for the Relief of German Children, of which Major-General Henry T. Allen is chairman, for the purpose of learning the truth about distress in that country.

The accompanying photograph shows graphically why these once healthy people are becoming prey to dread diseases. The pinch of poverty has compelled them to acquire more cramped and squalid living quarters and, compelled as they are to subsist on meagre rations, it is not long before their bodies give way to the strain upon them.

The couple shown are of the middle class, the husband a clerk, and in former years were comfortably housed and fed on his earnings. Now they find difficulty in procuring food of any sort and are dependent absolutely upon outside assistance if they are to be saved from illness and possible death.

It is the purpose of the American Committee to provide relief through its funds only for children, hence the financial burden of caring for adults must be assumed by others who have an interest in the grown-ups. For this reason the committee has established a food package department, through which persons in America who have relatives or friends in any part of Germany may, by paying ten dollars, assure the delivery to them of 119 pounds of substantial American food, including 49 pounds of flour, 25 pounds of rice, 10 pounds of sugar, 8 pounds of cooking fats, 3 pounds of cocoa and 24 one-pound tins of evaporated milk. The packages are insured and transported without cost in Germany by such a government there.

What such a contribution would mean to the man and wife shown in the above photograph is obvious. A package would last them for weeks with judicious use and might save them from serious illness.

Applications may be made either in person or by mail to the Food Package Department, American Committee for Relief of German Children, 42 Broadway, New York.

Final Standings
In Met. League

For Both Halves Prove Brooklyn Superior in All Respects—Besides Winning Greatest Number of Games the Brooklyn Squad Scored the Most Points and Held the Opposition to the Lowest Average.

As a proof of Brooklyn's superiority over the rest of the entrants in the Metropolitan Basketball League playoffs just closed, the youthful champions not only won the greatest number of games in both sections, but they led the league in total points scored, running up 1,219 in 40 games, an average of 30.5 per game. The Brooklyn crew scored the greatest number of field goals with 384, and held the opposition to the lowest average score, allowing but 1,088 points to be run up against it, an average of 27.2 per game. Paterson was second in scoring ability, and Kingston second in defense. Brooklyn took the year's series from every other club in the league, with the exception of Kingston, and that was an even break of four games apiece.

Although Paterson scored the greatest number of fouls, 553, Kingston's percentage of fouls scored is a trifle higher, the up-staters dropping in 507 one timers out of 962, or a high mark of .527. Strange to note, Brooklyn was the poorest foul shooting combination in the league, scoring but 451 times out of 953, a percentage of .473. The entire average of all clubs in foul shooting was .503, as 2,915 were scored out of a possible 5,791.

LAKE KATRINE.

Lake Katrine, March 26.—Miss Lena Henninger spent Sunday in Poughkeepsie.

George and his family. Henry Schmittmann of Brooklyn spent the week end with his mother. Mr. and Mrs. Shults of Glenhurst are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a son.

Miss Schoonmaker of Kingston spent Saturday with Mrs. Jay Fellows.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wright of Red Hook were here for the Grange meeting last Wednesday.

There was a goodly attendance at Sunday school Sunday. Rehearsal of Easter carols were begun. An invitation is extended to all.

Last Wednesday evening found a large attendance at the regular Grange meeting. During the business session a number of applications were received for membership. Interest is rapidly manifesting itself and a large class of candidates is expected very soon. The literary program, which was open to the public, was as follows:

Piano Solo—Dance of Rosebuds— Sylvia Montavani. Miss Montavani responded with two encores, "Dream of Yesterday," "March of the Wooden Soldiers."

Solo—"When Gazing in Thine Eyes"—Mrs. F. W. Forde. Encore—"The Blush Rose."

Playlet—"The Lonesome Country." This scene, as portrayed by the Misses Anna Snyder, Hattie Ten Broeck and Myron Boice, gave an example of the manner "city folks" regard their "poor country relation."

When Aunt Polly Walker (Miss Snyder) arrived to do her part in bringing up Susan Reynolds (Miss Ten Broeck) in the ways of the present generation, she was amazed to find her already well versed. Modern conveniences and all—even a quite "satisfactory" young man was there so Aunt Polly considered a compromise.

R. A. Young, who is lecturer of the Grange, prepares excellent programs. Next meeting on April 7 at 8 o'clock.

The play, "My Irish Rose," given by the T. X. T. Club, was very well given. A large audience all agreed on its success. Seldom does one witness an amateur play given with more success than was the Juvenile Minstrel performance. Standing room only and that limited, when the four piece orchestra announced the arrival of "Mammy's Lil' Honors." From the first to the last selection it was perfectly rendered. These youthful actors and actresses wish to thank their many friends for their great financial success.

Social At First Dutch Church.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Dutch Church will hold a social in the chapel Friday evening, March 28, at 8 o'clock. A very enjoyable time is promised all those who attend. Truth Stranger
Than Fiction

About 50,000 new freight rates have poured thus far this year into the official files of the Interstate Commerce Commission, a section of which is shown in the accompanying illustration. The shelves in the room where this photograph was taken contain official records of all freight and steamship rates in existence at the present time throughout the United States. Changes are made in the rates to the tune of about 10,000 new tariffs every month and as many of these tariffs show changes in more than one rate, the estimate of 50,000 for the three months of 1924 is conservative.

Paul E. Huettner, chief of the freight tariff examiner's branch of the commission, whose picture is shown in the inset, and his force of 42 examiners pass upon the flood of changes which the railroads propose daily. One of Mr. Huettner's assistants, B. H. Voris, is shown studying a volume containing recent proposals to change rates. Mr. Huettner and his comparatively small force supervise the proposals filed by about 2,000 railroad and steamship companies. These proposals are prepared by more than 10,000 tariff employees of the companies concerned. Heaven only knows how many separate rates are contained in the commission's archives. There are thirty-one great files, each with many shelves, each shelf containing many volumes and each volume containing hundreds, if not thousands, of rates. The total number of rates runs into the millions. The files shown here are Uncle Sam's only official record of the rates and are often utilized in suits and disputes to establish the facts.
